Friday Instruction

For all students in Plan B courses, Fridays are remote learning days. Teachers should have posted work for students in their individual Canvas course. Students should check in each course to see their work. It is possible that a teacher may have forgotten to post work today as they are getting used to this new system too. Students are required to check all of their courses.

Attendance is taken on Remote Fridays. You will be counted Present if you complete the work your teacher assigned. (Again, for this Friday if your teacher did not post work, they will not count you absent).

Thanks for your patience as we all get used to Plan B.
