Every year we have a school musical. Last year's show was Willy Wonka starring some of our very own! Anika Ryder who played Charlie Bucket and Smith Barlowe played Mike TV. The tryouts are probably going to be in December while the show will be in March/April. The school musical is a long time away but it is never too late to start planning!

Now we have some questions that were answered by the Girls on the Run coach!

TH: So what do you do in Girls on the Run?

GOTR: Well we play games, run, and talk about our feelings.

Theories about Crystals

By Audrey Hunsaker

People have been talking about “healing crystals” for centuries. “Healing Crystal Therapy” involves the act of placing the crystals upon the body to relieve negative energy. Proponents of this technique believe they act as conduits for healing -- allowing positive, healing energy to flow into the body, as negative, disease-causing energy flows out.

Five Fun Facts About Thanksgiving By DaShane McCray

some fun facts about Thanksgiving:

- Benjamin Franklin wanted the turkey to be the national bird, not the eagle.
- Americans eat almost 64 million turkeys each Thanksgiving.
- The first Thanksgiving had over 50 pilgrims.
- They had a Thanksgiving parade (called “Uncle Ben’s Thanksgiving Day Parade”)
- The parade had a marching band to go along with the event.

Veteran Visit by: Macy Otwell and DaShane McCray

Some Veterans came to our school to talk to fifth-graders about what it was like to be a veteran. Some of the veterans were in the Air Force, Vietnam, and even Desert Storm. The three very nice men came to talk about their experiences and answer some questions. Some students were given questions to ask and some thought of their own to ask. We got some amazing answers from them! One question was “How was the food?” The answer we got was really good! The camp’s food was surprisingly good but when they got stationed it was not so good. They also gave us some facts about their badges. They explained how they got them. The veterans told us that each one stood for each war that they fought in. The veterans were very brave and they fought for our country. We thank them so much for their courage. Also, we thank them for their time, because they were so generous with their time.

World Suffrage

By Andelyn P.

We have harmed our world for decades and yet people still fail to realize what truly is happening to our planet. We still spill trash and oil into our oceans killing our fish. Mass fishing is harming the animals that depend on our fish for food and for survival. Sharks that benefit our environment aren't getting enough to eat. Also, they are being used for shark fin soup. That's when people cut off a shark's fins, leaving it to die in the ocean. We are also cutting down too many trees which is pretty much killing our world's lungs. Not only are trees our planet's lungs but they are also killing machines. When we cut down trees we are releasing tons of carbon dioxide which is what trees need to survive. Trees need carbon dioxide just like we need oxygen. So when we cut them down we are releasing carbon which means there are fewer trees to consume that carbon so, therefore, leaving our planet with more and more every passing day.

What to Do about Bullying Behaviors (Guest Article)

by Samantha Chillemi

So bullies act really mean. Why? Most people bully other people because they feel bad about themselves and they are miserable so they want to make other people feel the way they do. Also they might have been bullied in the past or they might be going through something at home. Anyway, if someone is bullying you it is probably best to just tell them to please stop and walk away. If they keep doing it, it is best to tell an adult, like a parent or teacher. Then if they still do it after that you can talk to Mrs. Williams. You can talk about it to her and she will tell Mrs. Wearmouth or Mrs. Zolke. There are always people who act like bullies and we want to stop that, especially in our school. So let's go ahead and stop bullying.

The First Thanksgiving

By Andelyn P.

When the pilgrims first immigrated to the new world, they had it rough. They were attacked by not only Indians but also by sickness and animals. The Indians that attacked them were mad about the colonists taking their land. When the pilgrims decided to move to the new world they didn't think that life would be so hard. However, they got sick when they came from England on the ships that were packed incredibly tight and rat infested with disease. Also, when the Pilgrims arrived, they thought they would no longer be touched by sickness. But they were infected once more and started spreading it to the Indians. The Indians did not know how to treat these viruses so they were nearly killed.

After time, the pilgrims became comfortable, and the houses were built and crops were grown. The pilgrims befriended the Indians. The Indians taught them how to grow certain crops that the pilgrims could not seem to grow. They gave them tips to help them grow their crops faster. Things finally started to look up for the Pilgrims. Then the pilgrims invited the Indians to a feast. They had an amazing time. Children played and they all played games. They feasted and ate like kings. They gorged themselves and really just had a good time.
