

What to Do After Submitting FAFSA

- If you submitted the FAFSA online, then the U.S. Department of Education will process the application within 3-5 days. If you submitted a paper FAFSA, the application will be processed within 7-10 days.
 - The student will receive an email from FAFSA that looks like this:

- The Expected Family Contribution (EFC) and any grant or loan eligibility will be included in the email
- The student will also receive a copy of your Student Aid Report (SAR), which summarizes the information you provided on FAFSA. Review your SAR and make sure all of the information is complete and accurate.
 - If there is any missing or incorrect information, then you should complete or correct your FAFSA as soon as possible.
- Once your FAFSA is processed, your SAR is sent to the colleges that you listed on your FAFSA. Each college will use the SAR information to determine your eligibility for federal and nonfederal student aid. The colleges you listed are responsible for creating your award package and disbursing your financial aid. You will receive a financial aid package only if you are accepted to the college.
- You should contact the financial aid office at the college you plan to attend to find out if there are additional requirements for receiving financial aid or if you have any questions.